40 MEN ON STRIKE AT EAGLE MFG. CO. PLANT

Strike Follows Refusal of Company to Sign Contract Submitted by Men.

SETTLE WAGE DIFFERENCE

Trouble Starts When Bonus Plan, in Effect Since January, Is Withdrawn.

Forty workmen employed by the Eagle Manufacturing company are on strike today following the alleged refusal of the company to sign a contract submitted by the workmen. Statements from both sides indicate that wage differences were practically settled, but that the situation took a new turn when the contract was introduced, involving an unexpected increase in wages of five per cent. There was little indication of a settlement at noon today.

The trouble started a week ago Monday, when the company notified its employees that a so-called bonus of one hour's wages a day in effect since January would be withdrawn. Workmen said that the bonus was granted when objection was raised to a piece work policy. It was believed by George L. Lorch, superintendent, that greater efficiency would result from a nine hour day. This was granted in January, but the company agreed to continue giving the men 10 hours' pay.

Both sides said that the company met the objection to cutting off the extra hour's earnings, but that the new arrangement meant a cut to some of the men of 25 cents to 75 cents a week thru computing fractions. The workmen claim that this was not adjusted, but Charles Hagen, president of the Eagle Manufacturing company, states that it was.

In a statement issued by the committee of workmen handling the matter, it was said that they objected to the fact that the company agrees to give preference to union employees, and an increase in wages of five per cent above the amount involved in the adjustment. The committee consists of Harry Heintz, chairman, William Rippenhagen, Charles Blake, Eliss Carnes, Stephen Williams and Joseph Feavel.

The committee stated that the men were perfectly satisfied with the ten hour pay for a nine hour day, but that the friction started when the notice of withdrawal came. There had been no general increase since the trouble of August, 1919, but no complaint was made. The earnings vary from 37½ to 50 cents an hour, depending on the kind of work and the productive ability of the men.

A meeting of the striking employees was held Monday evening at Trades and Labor Council hall to discuss the situation, and another meeting of all members of Machinery Local No. 462 is called for Tuesday. Pickets have been stationed at the Eagle plant to see that none of the strikers go back to work.

Outside of a few tinmiths and one blacksmith, the strikers are all machinists. The other departments are still operating as usual, officials state. The workmen say the plant is 100 per cent organized.

Mr. Hagen states that the company decided to withdraw its bonus arrangement, and give the men nine hours' pay for nine hours' work. They willingly readjusted the wage scale when the men objected, so that each got practically the same as before. When it was found that some were losing a small amount each week thru the manner of computing the wages, the timekeeper was instructed to re-adjust the scale. This was done, so that nobody received less than the 10 hour wage, and some even a small amount more.

Believing that there was a feeling of discontent, Superintendent Lorch called a meeting of all the men in the plant Monday and discussed the matter of wages and conditions with them. He then summoned the men of each department, one group at a time, and asked them if they were satisfied. The painters, woodworkers, moulders, cutters and most of the tinmiths and blacksmiths stated that they were perfectly satisfied and were sent back to work.

HARDING URGES PROTECTION OF U. S. INDUSTRIES

Candidate Is Pleased With Enthusiastic Reception at Baltimore.

INVADES WEST VIRGINIA

Outposts of Solid South Hear Onslaughts on the Democratic Party.

(By Raymond Clapper.)
By United Press Leased Wire
Enroute with Senator Harding, Grafton, W. Va.—More than 500 railroad workers and residents of Grafton cheered Senator Warren G. Harding as he defended the Cummins-Esch railroad act in a speech from the station steps here today.

It was his first speech in West Virginia during the campaign. "Railroad workers are coming to understand that they can get their troubles adjusted by a recognized authority under this law," Harding said. "If the administration were now carrying out the provisions of the act requiring pro-rata distribution of cost cars to mines the situation would be indefinitely better."

At Fairmont, Harding walked around the station platform shaking hands. His train arrived one hour ahead of the announced time and only a comparatively small crowd was on hand. In a short speech Harding urged a return to a "common sense government."

Enroute, with Senator Harding to Wheeling, W. Va.—Warren G. Harding set out today to capture West Virginia for the republican party, tremendously cheered by an enthusiastic reception at Baltimore.

His West Virginia speech was to be delivered tonight at Wheeling. Harding's speech at Baltimore advocated protection of American industries and aggressive development of merchant marine.

Describing the growth of industries in Maryland as a result of the war, Harding pledged they would not be left to the mercy of foreign competition if he was elected.

Harding again assailed the policies of President Wilson. "The armistice ushered in a veritable condition of 'leave who can in our economic life,'" he said. "Industry, commerce, labor, finance, all were left to struggle and drift while the administration was intent upon unavailing pursuit of an international super-government and concerned as to domestic affairs in detached opportunism."

"It is of the gravest national concern," he continued, "that this changed international position shall not work to the injury of our industrial and agricultural life. We are not prepared to wipe from our books Europe's debt to us, but it would be incomparably better for our credits to remain uncollected and our balances to be waived than for liquidation to take the form of an undermining flood of imports that would cripple American industry, degrade American labor and weaken our whole economic fabric."

"From such an invasion we have a right to be saved. Our new merchant marine will do much to avert it. Supplemented now and whenever occasion requires by a cautious revision of our tariff, the new shipping development will become a potent element in American economic growth. It could be an intolerable thing if we stood by and let our enterprise impaired and our labor injured. If it be placed on responsible control in the November election, the republican party solemnly engages that this shall not come to pass."

Reprisals Receive Official Notice as MacSwiney Starts 47th Day of Fast.

By United Press Leased Wire
London—Terence MacSwiney, hunger striking lord mayor of Cork, entered his 47th day of fasting somewhat refreshed by a sound sleep.

He was in a state of exhaustion, however, suffering some pain, a Sinn Féinn bulletin said.

Dublin.—Police placards threatening to burn county Clare towns were plastered over the city of Dublin today. The placards bore the ultimatum that the cities will be destroyed if Captain Lenbrum, who disappeared while in Kilkee, is not returned within 24 hours. The places threatened were Kilkeel, Kilrush, Carrigrohilly, Doonbeg, Kilmihil and other West Clare villages.

Citizens of Athenry, county Galway, clad in their night clothes, were forced to kneel in the roadway last night until they promised to lift their boycott against police.

Boleat, scene of much rioting, was quiet last night except for small outbreaks in the last week resulted in such a storm that Dublin castle was ordered to start investigations. Telegraphic reports were ordered from Trim, county Meath town burned yesterday while its inhabitants fled to the open country.

In one of the Dublin riots last night seven soldiers and civilians were sent to hospitals with revolver wounds. The soldiers charged a mob, the threat of bayonets dispelling it. Members of the mob retaliated by firing into the troops.

Cabinet Plans Action

London.—Official consideration of the riots and reprisals in Ireland will be undertaken shortly by the British cabinet. It was reported today.

Advices from Dublin said steps were being taken to end reprisals by police.

The archbishop of Canterbury today issued a call for a week of prayer on the Irish and industrial situations.

The British press continued to call for action to stop reprisals. Repression of Irish law-breakers is necessary, the Express said, "but license for killings, pillage and arson by the crown's forces is intolerable."

The Times wondered if the government realized the indictment to which it is inescapable.

It was believed here any attempt to end reprisals would result in more severe penalties for Sinn Féiners.

Little Chance For Drop In Retail Prices Before Spring, Dealers Assert

Appleton Retailers Say Reduced Prices Will Not Reach Appleton Until Spring Deliveries Are Made—All Eager to Take Part in Lower Price Movement.

The price reduction movement that is sweeping the nation is welcome news to Appleton consumers, and most of them wonder when they are to benefit by it. Appleton merchants seem unanimous in their opinion that this cannot happen until next spring. They are preparing for it by the most conservative buying, as most of them believe the peak of prices has been reached and they will no longer be doing business on a rising market.

The reductions are largely in the wholesale and jobbing market. These houses are now taking orders for spring or summer delivery, and it is only on this merchandise that reduced prices are offered at this time. Appleton stores bought their present stocks months ago, and have more goods ordered for delivery in the coming months. Prices were high at that time, and they cannot afford to make big reductions without suffering a loss.

Many lines are already offered by wholesalers at reduced prices for spring delivery. It appears that there will be reductions in clothing, although not very marked, and staple dry goods are also on the price toboggan. Food prices may also decline, if present indications materialize. The average Appleton merchant is "standing by" waiting to see what the true situation is.

"Nothing we have bought so far is lower in price," said Miss Minnie Geenen, present of the Geenen Dry Goods company, when asked about the situation. "People cannot therefore hope for a reduction in prices as long as we are obliged to carry the merchandise for which we paid top figures. We do believe that spring wear will be lower, but can't say chandise will be lower. The present decline in the wholesale market will not be felt here until after the first of the year."

Glad to See Drops
"Our store has sold silks at lower prices for some time. The bottom dropped out of the silk market some time ago, and we are already giving the consumer the benefit. Our policy has been to give the customer the lowest price possible in the hope that conditions would improve, and depend on a larger volume of business to make up for it. We are glad to see lower prices coming."

A. J. Ingold, owner of the Fair Store, sees lower merchandise in sight but also shares the view that the consumer cannot benefit for some time to come.

"We all admit that merchandise is too high," said Mr. Ingold, "and I for one am glad to see the prices coming down. Everything that is spring wear will not be affected, but while there are already offering goods at somewhat lower prices for spring delivery."

"I am buying only enough goods to fill present demands and keep our stock intact, and am waiting to see what the outcome of the price-cutting movement will be. Salesmen find the same condition everywhere, and at most some feel that the lowering market is coming. I know of a white goods jobber who is just buying his spring supply, two useful have ours bought long before this, but they are just taking."

'BITTER ENDERS' EAGER ABOUT PACT

Demand That Harding State His Position on League Is Expected Soon.

(By L. C. Martin)
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Well informed politicians of both parties here expect long a firm request from republican "irreconcilables" on the league of nations that Senator Harding affirm anew his position, both on the league and the world court plan which Editor Roca has just brought back from The Hague.

Roca's return with a plan reported to have more teeth in it than the league covenant, Senator Penrose's public statement that the people of the United States are tired of the league issue, together with the silence of Harding and Will Hays on the league as it figured in the recent Maine election, all said to have disquieted "irreconcilable" republican senators.

FIND BODY IN RIVER; POLICE SAY SUICIDE

Mystery of Disappearance of Anton Kuehnl Cleared Up Monday.

ACTED IN STRANGE MANNER

Dead Man Told Fellow Workers That He "Was Tired of Living."

The disappearance of Anton Kuehnl, 500 State street, from his home last Wednesday was solved Monday afternoon when his lifeless body was found in the Fox River, at the second lock by H. Nooyan. The police pronounced it a case of suicide because of his queer actions and remarks to fellow workers that he was "tired of living."

Kuehnl was an Austrian, 63 years old and has a wife and several children. He was employed at the Auto Body Works and was said to be a good natured, industrious worker. Of late he had acted strangely. He tried to be jovial, but his co-employees noticed that he seemed to have something on his mind.

The man came home for dinner last Wednesday, was very irritable and nervous and had little to say. He remained only long enough to eat a little food and then went away. He did the same thing at supper time and went upstairs to his room before he left and put some money away, which he had carried in his pockets.

Nothing was seen of him since, but the family did not become alarmed, because they thought he was either staying with his niece, or had gone to the country to dig sugar beets. The first intimation the police had of his disappearance was when his body was discovered in the river. It is believed that he threw himself in the river the night he left home.

Inquiry made by Chief Price produced no evidence that he had enemies at the plant where he worked, and only plausible solution of his mental state appears to be the reports among his acquaintances that he had friction with his children over maintaining the expenses of the household. He is known to have told Fred Kiefer and Michael Schneider at the Auto Body Works that he was tired of living and did not care whether he was alive or dead. He never revealed exact reasons for his statements.

The body was removed to an undertaker parlor in the city ambulance and his family was notified.

WARNS EMPLOYERS NOT TO LOCK DOORS

Italian Premier Defends His Position as Conciliator in Dispute.

By United Press Leased Wire
Rome.—Premier Giolitti has warned all employers not to attempt lockouts while the government is drafting its proposed labor control bill.

Speaking before the Italian senate, Giolitti warned the owners of plants that they would have no aid from the government if, in reprisal for the occupation of their plants, they should shut the workers out.

Giolitti warmly defended his position in settling the labor controversy during which manufacturing plants were seized by workmen who attempted to operate them.

Italy's future depends upon the solution of the present social crisis, he told the senators.

Reports from the "area of occupation" today showed a majority of workmen were in favor of returning occupied plants to their owners.

An extensive fire in the Austro munitions factory at Naples Monday was believed to have been caused by extremists who refused to evacuate the factory. A red flag floated high above the flames until firemen conquered the fire and ran up the tri-color.

CONSPIRACY CHARGE IS PLACED AGAINST STARS

Testimony Shows Players Conspired With Gamblers to Lose World Series.

CICOTTE REVEALS PLAN

Same Gambling Clique Plans to Have Brooklyn Lose to Cleveland.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Eight members of the White Sox baseball club during the 1919 world series with the Cincinnati Reds, were indicted by the Cook county grand jury today.

The indictments were voted after Eddie Cicotte, ace of the White Sox, pitched during the series, appeared before the grand jury and told all he knew of the alleged throwing of the series.

Those accused were: "Hap" Felsch, center fielder; Buck Weaver, third base; Fred McMillin, utility infielder; Swede Risberg, shortstop; Eddie Cicotte, pitcher; Claude William, pitcher; Joe Jackson, outfielder; Chick Gandil, former first baseman.

Announcement that the indictments had been voted was made by Foreman H. H. Brigham of the grand jury. The indictments had not yet been drawn up at the time the announcement was made, but had been voted, and there may be several counts.

Cicotte was taken secretly before the grand jury and it took him an hour to tell what he knew. Immediately after he had given the jury announcement which he possessed, the information was made that the indictments had been voted by the foreman of the grand jury.

Cicotte has been the central figure in the rumors which have persisted for nearly a year regarding the crookedness of the 1919 world series.

The grand jury was to reconvene at 2:30 p. m. to hear testimony of 10 additional witnesses, including John J. McGraw, manager of the Giants, Dr. Prentiss and Mrs. Kelly, friends of White Sox players.

Cicotte left the criminal court building in company with William Sullivan, an investigator for the state's attorney's office.

When reporters attempted to talk to Cicotte, Sullivan stopped them saying that the White Sox pitcher was in custody.

The indictments voted accused conspiracy to do an illegal act.

Plans which have been made for the world series of this year will not be changed by the indictments returned against the eight White Sox players. Ban Johnson, president of the American league, announced after a conference with John Heydler, president of the National league.

Johnson and Heydler constitute the National commission in charge of the world series arrangements.

The eight players were suspended by the White Sox management immediately after announcement that the indictments were voted.

Charles Comiskey, owner of the Sox, said the men would be allowed to go back in the game only if they proved their innocence. Otherwise, the Old Roman said he would have them banished from organized baseball.

Alfred Austrian, attorney for Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, conferred with Judge Maguire shortly before the indictments were returned. The information given the grand jury which led to the indictments is understood to have been substantially the same as that made public in the statement alleged to have been given out by a Philadelphia gambler today.

Rumors of a scandal in connection with the series started immediately after the first game was played in Cincinnati.

Investigations were started by Owner Comiskey and other baseball officials but no criminal action ever actually got under way under Judge McDonald of the criminal court instructed the present Cook county grand jury to take up alleged crookedness in baseball in general and the 1919 world series in particular.

Among the first witnesses called were Comiskey and Ban Johnson, the latter president of the American league. They gave the grand jury the results of their private investigations.

Arrangements were made to hear John Heydler, president of the National league, John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants and other men in the baseball world but as far as known they were not called.

Information which has been gathered by officials tended to indicate that the same clique of gamblers which is alleged to have "fixed" the 1919 series, had made plans to have Brooklyn throw the coming series to the Cleveland Indians.

These reports said that the Chicago White Sox were being blackmailed by the gamblers who are alleged to have gotten the players under indictment in their grip last year to throw this year's pennant to Cleveland.

Brookmakers on baseball games are known to have passed the tip around.

that Cleveland would take the American league pennant as well as the world series.

The plot to throw the 1919 series as unfolded before the jury was reported to be substantially as follows: A go-between was alleged to have approached one of the White Sox players offering $100,000 from a gamblers' syndicate to throw the games.

This White Sox player approached those whom he could trust with the proposed deal. Several are alleged to have agreed to the proposition. The money was to have been paid into the hands of the players previous to the first game.

Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulified coconut oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last every one in the family for months.

BAKERY SWEETS ARE BOOMED BY PROHIBITION LAW

ate President of Bakers Says Craft is Enjoying Prosperity.

CHANGE IN PRICES

emand for All Kinds of Baked Goods Increased Since War Started.

The demand for bakery sweets has nearly doubled since prohibition went into effect," said Joseph Poehlmann of Milwaukee, president of the Wisconsin Association of Master Bakers.

Monday afternoon. "The enforcement of the new law has affected our business nearly as much as that of ice cream manufacturers," he said.

Mr. Poehlmann had just arrived from Milwaukee when interviewed. He drove up in his car and was accompanied by Mrs. Poehlmann and son Walter. Stops were made at Fond du Lac and Neenah. At the latter place, Mr. Poehlmann called on the proprietor of the Valley Inn, who is an old friend.

"We intend to emphasize the support of the Dunwoody Institute at Minneapolis by retail bakers of the state," said the president when questioned as to the special business that is to be considered at the sixteenth annual convention which opened at Hotel Appleton Monday evening.

The Dunwoody Institute was founded by a well known Minneapolis capitalist for educational purposes and is managed by Dr. Barnard, former food commissioner of Indiana, who later added a bakery department for the training of wholesale and retail bakers.

Dr. Barnard appeared before the National Association of Master Bakers at Minneapolis and outlined his plan in such an attractive way to the wholesalers that their share of the funds required was quickly subscribed. An effort will be made at the present convention to get the retail bakers interested.

The new department will serve as a recruiting station for a trade which since the war has been a most profitable one. The wholesalers will be trained in bread making and the retailers in the making of sweet goods. The latter will be given a three months' course. Mr. Poehlmann was elected first vice president of the National association.

He said the demand for bakers' bread more than tripled during the war owing to the substitute which housewives were unable to use and that there has been very little falling off since. People generally have become accustomed to buying bread and find it cheaper than making it at home with the present high price of fuel.

"I do not look for any very great change in the price of bread for the present," said Mr. Poehlmann. "even if wheat should continue to drop. Whenever noticeable reduction there will be may be expected about Dec. 1, when bakers commence to use the new crop of wheat. The demand for wheat bread is constantly increasing."

BRIDGE WILL BE OPEN LATTER PART OF WEEK

The temporary closing of Lake street draw bridge was due to the breaking of a large gear wheel. Its companion wheel gave away several days ago. Both had flaws and as soon as they were observed, O. F. Weisgerber, city engineer, placed an order with a Milwaukee firm for new ones, which have not yet arrived. The city engineer got in touch with the firm Monday and learned that they would be here not later than Wednesday. About a day will be required to install them. While vehicles are compelled to detour by way of Lake street bridge, provision has been made for pedestrians to cross on the lock gates.

THREE KILLED; SIX INJURED IN BLAST

By United Press Leased Wire Jackson, Ohio.—An explosion at the plant of the Jackson Iron and Steel company cost the lives of three men and seriously injured six others. The cause of the explosion was not determined.

One of the furnaces gave way and hot iron rushed down on the workers without warning.

while the call for rye bread is gradually growing less.

Mr. Poehlmann said that one of the greatest moving pictures ever produced is that of "Earth's Greatest Gift" which is to be shown at the Appleton theatre at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon thru the courtesy of the Bay State Milling company. It shows the wheat from the time it begins to sprout in the ground until it is ready for harvest. The method of harvesting from the old Egyptian days down to the present and the different means used in converting the wheat into flour for 4,000 years are truthfully depicted.

Mr. Poehlmann was brought up in the bakery business. He is proprietor of the Pioneer Bakery, which was established by his father near where the Milwaukee city hall stands in 1853. Several years later the plant was destroyed by fire since which time it has been located near the Junneau monument on Grand avenue. Mr. Poehlmann ships his bread as far east as New York and as far west as Montana.

15-CENT SPORT

MERKEL'S CASUALTY LIST IS IN DEMAND

The private casualty list of the 127th Infantry which Captain George Merkel made while at the front and which is a duplicate of the official list in possession of the government at Washington, D. C., has already become a valuable and much sought after document. The adjutant general's office at Madison has so much need of the information it contains that Leo Levenick, Capt. Merkel's former sergeant major, who is employed in that department, asked permission to take it and it was sent to him Monday morning by registered mail. The list contains 3,486 names.

Some of the caterpillars found in the region of the Darling river in Australia are more than six inches long. An individual crawling ten feet for seed-bathers can be packed and carried in a suitcase.

PESKY BED BUGS

(Pesky Devils Quietest) P. D. Q. is a new chemical that puts to rest the pesky bedbugs, roaches, fleas, ants and cockroaches—impossible for the pesky devils to exist where P. D. Q. is used. Recommendations of Hotels, Hospitals, Railroad Companies and other public institutions are a guarantee to the public that the safest, quickest and most economical way of ridding the pesky insects is by the use of P. D. Q. as this chemical kills the eggs as well as the live ones, and will not injure the clothing.

A 50c package makes a full quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas or cockroaches, and also contains a patent sprout to get the egg nests in the crevices and corners and save juice.

Special Hospital size $2.50 makes five gallons—contains three sprouts—supplied by druggists or sent prepaid upon receipt of price, either size, by the Owl Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind.—never peddled.

ONLY 2 MORE DAYS IN SLOGAN CONTEST

Still Have a Chance to Share in Prize Money Offered by C. of C.

Hurry up with your slogan suggestions! Only two more days remain in which to enter into this contest for $4 in prize money—$10 for the first prize and $2 each for the next 12 prizes. The contest ends with the close of business Thursday afternoon and all suggestions must be in the hands of the slogan editor of the Post-Crescent by that time.

The publicity and convention committee of the chamber of commerce, which is to judge the slogans, will meet Friday afternoon and it is probable the announcement of winners will be made on Saturday.

The Chamber of commerce wants a slogan which will tell the world that Appleton is a part of it and has ideals for which it is striving. Every city of consequence has a motto and Appleton does not want to lag in this regard.

The old motto: "Active, Attractive Appleton," which is good in many ways, does not fit into the city's new program of development. What is wanted is something which will set forth the city's aims in a more forceful manner.

Rainbow Veterans
The Appleton chapter of the Rainbow Division Veterans will meet at eight o'clock Monday evening at the armory. Important business matters are to come up, including a discussion of the armistice day celebration.

Relieve Your Rheumatism For 25c.

NR does it by improving digestion, assimilation and elimination—the logical way.

NR Today—Relief or No Pay

There are three vital processes of human existence—the digestion of food, the extraction of nourishment from it and the elimination of the waste.

Let anything interfere with these processes—let them be interrupted or improperly carried on, and sickness of some kind follows.

Poor digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn often means impoverished blood, weakness, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of resistance to disease and leads to the development of many serious ills.

Rheumatism, due to some interference with the process of elimination, failure to get rid of certain body poisons, cannot be expected to yield to any medicine that fails to correct the condition responsible for it. Could any reasonable person expect to rid himself of rheumatic pain as long as rheumatic poison is allowed to remain in the body?

Think of this. It explains the success of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) in so many cases where other medicines have failed. Thousands are using NR Tablets every day and getting relief. Why pay five or ten times as much for uncertain things? A 25c box of Nature's Remedy is enough to last twenty-five days—must help you, must give you prompt relief and save you fifty¢ or more or cost you nothing.

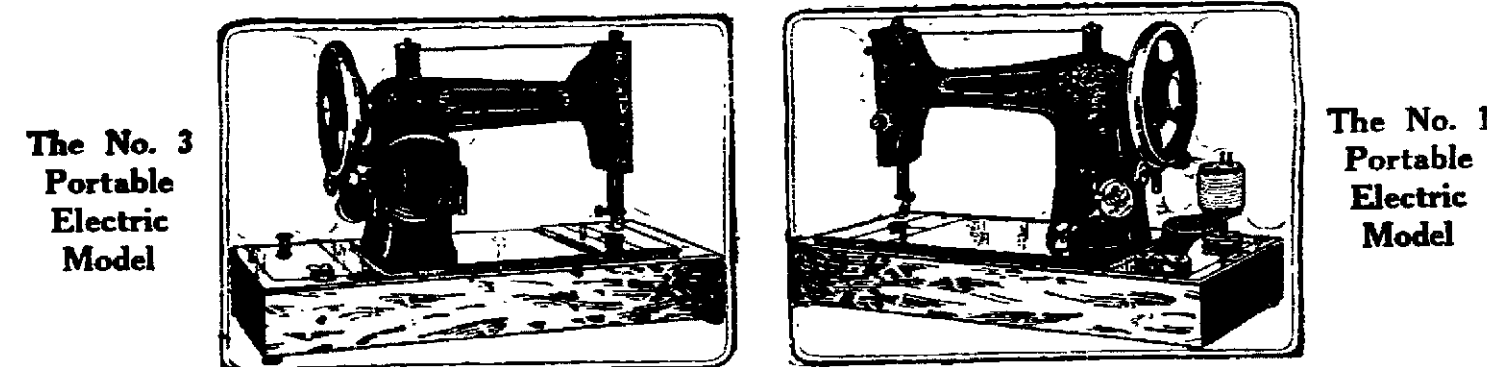

And Nature's Remedy is not only for the relief of rheumatism. It improves digestion, tones the liver, regulates kidney and bowel action, improves the blood, and cleanses the whole system. You'll feel like a new person when you've taken NR Tablets a week. You've tried the expensive medicines and doctors, now make the real test. You'll get results this time. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

Weds at Reedsburg
Miss Sarah Schamanske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schamanske of Reedsburg, became the bride of Stephen Schamanske, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Schamanske, Appleton, at nine o'clock Tuesday morning at Sacred Heart rectory, Reedsburg. The Rev. Father Druman performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a dark brown traveling suit with hat to match and a corsage bouquet of white roses and forget-me-nots. She was attended by Miss Florence Schamanske, who wore a blue tulle dress with hat to match and also a corsage bouquet of roses.

The groom was attended by Frank Schamanske of Stevens Point. The young people left on a wedding trip to Milwaukee, Chicago, and the Delta of Wisconsin.

The guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Schamanske, Appleton; Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Schamanske, Ladysmith, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Quinn, Little Chute; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mauthe, Menasha.

Miss Bray Weds
At 5:30 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Joseph church, Miss Berenice Bray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bray, 434 Locust street, became the bride of Henry Mauthe, son of George Mauthe. The bride wore a dress of white georgette over satin, with a veil and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses. She was attended by Miss Clara Boyle, who wore a pink crepe de chine dress and carried a shower bouquet of yellow roses. George Mauthe was groom's man.

After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents to immediate relatives, after which the couple left on a trip to Milwaukee and Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Mauthe will be at home upon their return at 624 Locust street.

Brux-Kittner Wedding
Miss Agnes Brux, daughter of Mrs. Anna Brux, 429 Cherry street, and Harvey G. Kittner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kittner, 1035 Parkhurst street, were married at ten o'clock Tuesday morning in the Catholic parsonage at Greenville by the Rev. Edward Schimberg. The couple was unattended.

The bride was dressed in a blue traveling suit and wore a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses.

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother after which the young people left on a wedding trip to Milwaukee and Chicago. They expect to return in about a week to make their home at 423 Cherry street.

MELANCHOLY WOMEN

Women should understand that melancholy, commonly called the "Blues," is in nine times out of ten a pure symptom of some organic derangement which should have attention. For nearly forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for such conditions, as proved by many testimonials which we are constantly publishing from women who have been restored to health by its use.

THE BOOK OF DEBORAH
Bob Seems to Like a Woman Whom Laugh Harmonizes With His

An exquisite, contralto laugh, floating above the rattle of the dishes, reached my ears. My husband's fine bass tones harmonized with it. Usually Bob does not consider wiping the dishes a mirth-provoking entertainment. I suppose he wouldn't care to have any one but his mother know that he ever takes a dish towel in his hand. Of course, we could always avoid the task by going to one of the clubs or hotels for dinner the evening the maid is away, but Bob and I prefer a dinner at home even if the price is "doing the dishes" afterward. Bob likes all the time he can get at home to do a little reading.

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother after which the young people left on a wedding trip to Milwaukee and Chicago. They expect to return in about a week to make their home at 423 Cherry street.

NEWS OF INTEREST FROM COUNTY AND STATE

COMMUNITY FAIR TO BE BIG EVENT

Business Men of Bloomer Want to Keep in Close Touch With Farmers.

Chippewa Falls, Wis.—The Bloomer community fair, which was so successful last year, is to be repeated on a larger scale this year on Oct. 1. The community fair is the idea of Lynn Haskins, principal of the Bloomer high school. The idea is to bring Bloomer in closer touch with its farming community, especially along educational lines.

The fair is to be held under the auspices of the high school and the commercial club. The committee on general arrangements is composed of Lynn Haskins, M. R. Goodell, W. A. Sturte, O. A. Steller and A. J. Martin.

Exhibit Farm Produce.

A committee of farmers and stock breeders will contribute stock, grains and other exhibits. The agricultural exhibit will be held in the new garage of Fiel and Rubenzer, which is perhaps the largest building of its kind in Chippewa county. The stock show will be held in the Andrew and Union house barns. There will be only one concession and that is for the high school booth, the proceeds from which will go to the athletic fund.

This fair will be unique in some of its features. There will be no admission charges or entry fees, and there will be no carnival shows. The business men of Bloomer are paying the

INDIANS ARE PLANNING FOR BIG CELEBRATION

Birchwood, Wis.—Indians of the Court O'Reilly reservation of Sawyer county, 18 miles northeast of here, are announcing that an Indian pow wow is to be held Oct. 2, 3 and 4 at the Indian trading post, near Winter. Indians from other reservations will be in attendance to participate in the games and dances. The sports scheduled include lacrosse, moccasins games, bow and arrow contests, log rolling and other games for women. Visitors will be invited to inspect the wigwams which are to be fitted up as they were in the earlier days of the Redskins. Indian handiwork will be on display which will be sold at the end of the entertainment.

FEAR FOREST FIRES IN VICINITY OF GREEN BAY

Green Bay, Wis.—Veteran woodsmen are fearing forest fires in this vicinity. The intense heat and lack of rain during the past ten days is laying a foundation to make possible one of the worst timber conflagrations in history.

Warnings are being issued to tourists and travelers urging them to exercise utmost precaution against leaving camp fires in the woods or along the road.

According to the weather bureau, this has been the hottest September in the last 20 years. The absence of rain has also shattered a long standing mark.

Cuticura Soap Clears the Skin and Keeps it Clear

Prof. James and Prof. Luther of the college of agriculture, Madison, and Prof. May, River Falls, are the speaking program. The practical farmers in the Bloomer district will tell their experiences on the road to success. Secretary Abernathy of the county Y. M. C. A. will show his track team of boys. Schools will be closed for the day.

The street in front of the main exhibit building will be roped off, where all of the latest types of farm machinery will be shown. Expert salesmen will explain the good points of these machines.

Bark is not wood, but is composed of three layers of tissues.

HEALTH OFFICERS OPEN MEET IN MADISON TODAY

Madison.—The fifth biennial conference of Wisconsin health officers will be held here today, tomorrow and Thursday. The conference will give consideration to a wide range of topics concerning conditions confronting health officers, according to an announcement by the state board of health.

An address of welcome will be given by Mayor I. M. Kittleson. Madison Governor Philipp will address the delegates tomorrow. Among those who will take part in the program are: Dr. Frank A. Southwick, Stevens Point; Dr. G. Windesheim, Kenosha; Dr. L. M. Fields, Beloit; Dr. W. W. Johnston, Racine; Dr. J. H. Farr, Eau Claire; Miss Anna Beutcher, Beloit; Dr. V. A. FRANCE GRATEFUL FOR BADGER HELP

Letter of Appreciation Is Received at Madison From Paris University.

Madison, Wis.—The University of Paris has just sent to the University of Wisconsin a letter of appreciation for Wisconsin's engrossed parchment letter in commemoration of the French war medal awarded last fall. The letter, which is signed by P. Appell, president of the council of the University of Paris, reads in translation:

"The University of Paris expresses her gratitude to the University of Wisconsin for her address as noble in its tenor as it is beautiful in its framing, cherishes imperishable memories of the moral and military help which the valiant sons of Wisconsin, together with their multitudinous brothers of the great American nation, brought to the cause of Right in the hour of trial, and pledges herself to wage in the future no other warfare than that of the spirit, as soon as the ghost of military ambition is laid in its grave without a chance of its rising up again to ruin the peace of the world."

Wisconsin's letter of acceptance of the bronze medal awarded by the French university in commemoration of Wisconsin's service in the war against Germany was beautifully engrossed and illuminated on parchment, signed by President E. A. Birge, and enclosed in a cardinal morocco case with an illuminated "W" in white on the cover.

WOMEN'S CLUB BODY MEETS AT SUPERIOR

Superior.—The state convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs will be held here today, tomorrow and Thursday. Mrs. Thomas Winter, Minneapolis, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. George Plummer, Chicago, chairman of the community service department, will be the principal speakers. New officers will be elected.

3 ISSUES BEFORE BAR CONVENTION

Leading Political Speakers Will Feature Gathering Opening Today.

Milwaukee.—Addresses by Paul S. Reinsch, democratic candidate for U. S. senator, who recently resigned as legal advisor to the Chinese government, and Albert J. Beveridge former U. S. senator from Indiana and remilitarized of the life of the late Chief Justice John B. Winslow, of the Wisconsin Supreme court, will feature the program of the annual convention of the Wisconsin Bar association, tomorrow and Thursday.

The nine suggestions put forward by the former president, B. R. Goggind, at Madison, in 1917, and which were referred to a committee headed by Howard L. Smith, professor of laws at the University of Michigan, will be discussed. These concern technical rules of evidence, less than unanimous verdict, simplifying and cheapening appeals and abolition of the printer case, shortening of pious and abridging the reporting and publishing of cases, principles and appellate jurisdiction, such as in the hearing of testimony, on appeal in certain cases, the association activities.

There is an increase in membership of the bar association, compulsion of lawyers to join and the Minnesota Plan, the harmonizing of inconsistent statutes in the subjects of eminent domain and city government.

MADISON PLANS TO ENLARGE ITS SCHOOLS

Madison, Wis.—A building program for the Madison school system that will require the expenditure of at least $600,000 in the next two years was outlined by Prof. E. B. Skinner, president of the board of education. The program would only care for the needs of the next five years, in his estimation.

The $600,000 would purchase two sites for high schools, one in the east end and one in the west; would pay for the erection of the first unit of the east end high school; would buy two sites for graded schools, one each in the east and west ends, and would provide for completion of the West side graded school.

Mr. Skinner pointed out, to emphasize the necessity for immediate expansion, that the Central high school has registered this year 1,500 students, 50 per cent more than the normal capacity of the building.

HOW EXPLOSIVES ARE HANDLED IN NEW YORK CITY

New York — Investigations of the Wall Street blast have turned the spotlight on Metropolitan methods of transporting explosives. Pictures show the safety-first methods used. When small boats, flying a red flag of danger, arrive at the wharf with a load of explosives, a powder wagon is already waiting. On the wagon body is printed the word "EXPLOSIVES" in huge letters. Inspectors are always on the job. Every stick of dynamite entering New York City must be stamped with the contractor's number, and records are kept of the quantity received and by whom used. Inspectors superintend the packing, shipping and use.

MUST PAY FOR FULL WEIGHT OF CHEESE

Practice of Paying Only for Even Pounds Stopped by Market Board.

(Special to Post-Crescent.)
Madison, Wis.—Enjoining dealers in American cheese from refusing to pay cheese factories for quarter and half pounds, the Division of Markets Monday issued an order, effective at once, directing every cheese buyer in Wisconsin to pay for not less than the full amount which the cheese weighs at the time of weighing at the buyer's warehouse.

The practice existing for years in Wisconsin, under which approximately one million dollars are estimated to have been absorbed annually, was for the cheese buyers at producing centers, such as Plymouth and Marshfield, to pay for only even pounds and to either take the fractions of pounds without payment or make a flat reduction of 1/4 pound or 1/2 pound upon every box.

Public hearing, to determine the reason for this practice, was held in Milwaukee on September 15 before Alvin C. Reis, Counsel for the Division of Markets. Cheese buyers, comprising both independent and meat packer dealers, appeared at this hearing and testified, being represented by George Mooney, attorney for the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange of Plymouth, Leo Nohl, Milwaukee lawyer, intervened in behalf of the Wisconsin Dairy Protective Association.

The cheese dealers maintained that the justification for failing to pay for fractions is the fact that cheese factories are marketing cheese which, because it is shipped too soon after making, shrinks in weight while in the hands of the dealer. The position of the Division of Markets, however, is that this loss should be offset by the payment of a lower price for such "green" cheese and that it is unfair to take fractions from every producer of cheese without regard to whether or not his cheese is in green condition.

The order, as issued, applies to all persons buying American cheese from the producers and to all selling agents of American cheese for the producers. Violation of the order, unless it has been set aside by the courts, is punishable by fine or imprisonment and in addition—gives the party suffering loss from such violation the right to lay his case before the Division of Markets and recover twice the amount of his loss.

GREEN BAY PACKERS OPEN SEASON WITH TIE

Green Bay, Wis.—Rattling before a large crowd the local Green Bay Packers fought to a 3 to 3 tie with the Chicago Boosters here Sunday afternoon. The game was a thriller throughout, with the exception of several disputes over decisions and a near fist fight.

Both teams scored their final field goal in the final quarter. Neilson of Chicago put a pretty drop between the goal posts from the twenty-seven yard line, while Curley Lamborn, former Notre Dame star, booted one over from the thirty foot mark in the last minute of play.

Lamborn's spectacular work in tying the score at the very last brought the crowd surging on the field at the close of the game and the carrying of Lamborn around on their shoulders in true college style.

The game was the first for both teams this fall and both showed a lack of training. Both teams marred the game in wrangling over decisions.

BOOZE RUNNERS ARE ARRESTED AT ANTIGO

Antigo.—Patrolman John Utnehrer arrested Cesare Castagna and John Korbach on a charge of liquor smuggling and confiscated 200 quart bottles of bonded whisky.

The men stopped at a local garage to get gasoline for their automobile. A cover over the rear seat aroused the suspicions of the patrolman and he investigated. When he found the whisky the men offered him two cases of the liquor and $50 cash if he would release them. Utnehrer told the police chief.

The men were carrying the whisky from Chicago to Hurley they told the police. One of them carried a revolver.

Ashland Engineer Tells of Customs of South American Warriors.

Ashland, Wis.—Guy Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Edwards of Ashland, has arrived here from Morococha, Peru, where he is employed as mining engineer for the Cerro de Pasco Copper Mining corporation of South America, and will spend four months vacation in the states.

Three years in Peru, leaving only for occasional explorations in the mountains and the upper Amazon, is Mr. Edwards' record. He has made a study of the Indian-Spanish people of the hills and the savage tribes of the upper Amazon and has collected a wealth of material which he will publish in a series of articles for American magazines.

He tells of a peculiar custom of the Amazon tribes who shrink the heads of their enemies killed in battle to the size of an ordinary man's fist, string them about their necks and wear them as ornaments. The secret

PETEY, LISTEN HARD!

When it's your good luck to butt into Buffalo, go to that store on Ellcott Square where the dark haired clerk slips out Camels with both hands—plus a tank of talk on the side!

The thing that tickled me most was his sureness that I was after Camels! As soon as I had my coin on the counter and before I could say a word, he flashed me a package of Camels! When I asked him how he knew I wanted Camels, he took a pull on his laugh stock and soaked me with this:—"Can't tell you, old mayonnaise—I'm dressing!"

After he had waited on several other men who drew their Camels like I did, this salesman said:—"For a fact, most men here smoke Camels. They hit the poplar taste! Camels have the right body and the right mildness and the right flavor! They're ALL right!"

And, Pete—he added this without a stutter: The more I see of the world and the more I learn about cigarettes, the more respect I have for Camels and Camels quality! I don't believe a better cigarette could be made at any price! And Pete—oh, Pete—listen to this gem:—"And it's an odds on bet I'm a good judge. I've tried 'em all—and my taste is the jury box!"

If that isn't a swell line of Camel talk, I'll sell my shoes! But, Peter, that salesman is right! It's my belief that no cigarette in the world can be favorably compared with Camels—they're so smooth and mellow and delightful!

I'm herewith slipping between the sheets, old book. So, you tell 'em the rest—you're so full of knowledge!

PUSH ENFORCEMENT OF AUTO LIGHT LAW

Auto Insurance Companies Are Interested in Lights Carried by Cars.

(Special to Post-Crescent.)
Madison — Automobile insurance companies are beginning to interest themselves in compliance with the automobile headlight law for the car they insure. This is due to the fact that there have been several recent accident cases in which the plaintiff is alleging that the accident was due to improper headlights on the car of the other motorist. The state law provides that if an accident occurs at night and a car does not have the proper headlights this fact shall be prima facie evidence of negligence.

The Industrial Commission also reports that in some localities progress is being made in securing active enforcement of the headlight law. In common with all other traffic laws and regulations the enforcement of this law rests entirely with the local authorities, and in many places the police officers have failed to do anything.

The difficulty has been that they have not as yet been given candelometers which are just as necessary to measure light as is the speedometer to measure speed. Quite a few of the larger cities now, however, have equipped their police departments with candelometers and Milwaukee is putting in a complete testing station.

Most motorists throughout the state appear to have on some kind of anti-glare device on their headlights, either homemade or patented. In many cases, however, the proper adjustments have not been made and the glare consequently has not been eliminated. What is needed, states the Industrial Commission, is not to get some other device, but to properly adjust the headlights which can be done by most garage men. The commission warns motorists against unscrupulous advertising by the manufacturers of some patented devices, who claim that their device and no others are approved. There is no approved list of devices at all and it is possible to comply with the automobile headlight law without any patented device. Full instructions upon how to do so can be secured from the Industrial Commission.

REDS FAIL TO STIR UP MEXICAN STRIKE

L. W. W. Representatives Wave Red Flag and Advocate Use of Dynamite.

(By Ralph H. Turner.)
By United Press Leased Wire.
Mexico City.—Alleged efforts of L. W. W. representatives to engage Mexican labor in a general strike on the American continent, Oct. 1, were a failure, according to the evidence today. Demonstrations here and in other Mexican cities yesterday were orderly and the only action taken was the adoption of a series of resolutions relating to living costs and working conditions.

Previously the L. W. W. delegates had announced that the meetings had been called to arrange for Mexican participation in a general strike to start on the North American continent October 1 and thereafter spread throughout the world.

In Mexico City, 2,000 laborers marched in a parade carrying banners with the usual labor slogans and listened to a number of speeches regarding labor's aims and rights.

The meeting demanded government action to reduce the cost of living and the appointment of a regulating committee.

Several speakers, however, gained admission to the national palace and addressed a crowd from a balcony. They urged action for the "triumph of the proletariat" and the downfall of the bourgeoisie.

One speaker went to the extent of advocating the use of dynamite on the national palace, the chamber of deputies, newspapers, and other institutions "impeding the workers' progress."

Some red flags appeared in the parade. No attempt was made to break up the parade or choke off the speeches and there was no disorder.

Neither he or his secretary, John Dougherty, have been seen since. Small had $100,000 in Canadian war bonds in his possession when he vanished. He is estimated to be worth $12,000,000.

DISCUSS TRADE WITH CANADIANS

Canadian Farmers Demand Reciprocity Negotiations

Washington, D. C.—Trade relations with Canada will attract serious attention at an early date, according to the tariff commission, which today made public a report on the subject of Canadian reciprocity.

The commission points out that the dominion government is now making preparation for a general revision of the tariff and that official platform of the liberal party and farmer-labor party in Canada demand a renewal of reciprocity negotiations with the United States. The Canadian reciprocity bill passed by congress ten years ago remains on the statute books, although it was never effective as a result of rejection by Canada.

See Trade Shipping Away.
The commission comments on the fact that the movement for preferential treatment of the imperial trade by all the dependencies of Great Britain and the recent agreement between Canada and the West Indies, providing for reciprocal concessions that the United States will not enjoy, may divert from this country much trade that otherwise might flow in this direction.

The commission's report contains an extended statistical study of the effect which the agreement would have had if adopted at the time it was drawn up and the present time. The report says:

"The articles which would be especially affected by the present adoption of the proposed rates are flaxseed, oats, hay and barley. The loss of these is not of great importance."

Exports More Out.
"The bulk of the imports of hay go to northeastern sections, since the transportation costs for such a bulky commodity are high. As to oats, although Canada produces only one-third as much as the United States, her annual exports are greater. The removal of the duty, as contemplated in the reciprocity agreement, would, the commission concludes, result in increased imports and in increased returns to the Canadian farmers, although not greatly affecting our prices in the United States."

"Wheat and potatoes are now admitted free into the two countries."

NEWBERRY APPEAL HITS CORRUPT PRACTICE ACT

Washington.—The appeals of Senator Newberry of Michigan and sixteen other defendants convicted last March at Grand Rapids, Mich., on charges of corruption in connection with 1918 Michigan senatorial election was formally filed today in the Supreme court.

The federal corrupt practice act and also asked the Supreme court to pass on the question of the authority of congress to fix the amount that candidates may expend for campaign purposes.

Since in the regular order of things the case would not be reached on the court docket for about eighteen months, the government is expected to ask that the hearing on the appeal be expedited.

Conspicuous nose pores

How to reduce them

Complexions otherwise flawless are often ruined by conspicuous nose pores.

The pores of the face are not as fine as on other parts of the body. On the nose especially, there are more fat glands than elsewhere and there is more activity of the pores. These pores, if not properly stimulated and kept free from dirt, clog up and become enlarged.

To reduce enlarged nose pores: Wring a soft cloth from very hot water, lather it with Woodbury's Facial Soap, then hold it to your face. When the heat has expanded the pores, rub in very gently a fresh lather of Woodbury's. Repeat this hot water and lather application several times, stopping at once if your nose feels sensitive. Then finish by rubbing the nose for thirty seconds with a piece of ice.

Notice the improvement the very first treatment makes—a promise of what the steady use of Woodbury's Facial Soap will do. But do not expect to change completely in a week a condition resulting from long continued exposure and neglect. Use this treatment persistently. It will gradually reduce the enlarged pores and make them inconspicuous.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.

ROADS DENY BLAME FOR PRICE BOOST

Railway Executives Present Figures to Prove That Increases Are Small.

Washington, D. C.—Increased freight rates should cause only slight advances in the cost of living, according to figures made public today by the Association of Railway Executives.

The statistics, which were compiled by the bureau of railway economics, show the old and new rates on ordinary retail sales for shipments of a number of commodities.

Effect on Clothing.
The freight rate on a suit of men's clothing shipped from Chicago to Cleveland, a distance of 235 miles, has been increased by 1.85 cents according to the statement. The rate on the same suit shipped from Chicago to New Orleans, a distance of 912 miles, has been increased 1.84 cents.

The increase on a pound of beef shipped from Chicago to Washington, a distance of 585 miles, is 0.27 of a cent.

The rate on a pair of shoes shipped from St. Louis to Cleveland, a distance of 537 miles, has been increased 1.24 cents.

On a ten pound sack of flour shipped from Minneapolis to Boston, a distance of 1,502 miles, the freight rate has been increased 1.2 cents.

As to Potatoes.
On a pack of potatoes weighing 15 pounds shipped from Stevens Point, Wis., to New Orleans, a distance of 1,161 miles, the freight rate has been increased 2.75 cents.

The increase on a dozen oranges with a shipping weight of six pounds, sent from San Francisco to Boston, a distance of 3,584 miles, is 2.55 cents.

On a piano, which with its packing would weigh 125 pounds, shipped from Chicago to Birmingham, Ala., a distance of 652 miles, the increase in the freight rate is $4.33.

FRENZIED MOB TRIES TO FREE ISLAND IMMIGRANTS

New York.—Commissioner of Immigration Frederick A. Wallis left for Washington Thursday night in an effort to remedy congested conditions at Ellis island.

The situation was brought to a head during Wednesday night, when 2,000 relatives and friends of more than 3,000 immigrants broke down an iron fence and stormed the information booth in effort to obtain release of the aliens.

Commissioner Wallis was the only high official on the island. His wife assisted him in calming the unruly crowd. Their reassurance of speedy action of the pending cases averted a possible attempt to liberate the inmates forcibly.

Commissioner Wallis declared that the exodus of the Jews from Poland amounted to a stampede, and that they were "coming too fast for their own good."

"I am convinced that a serious mistake has been made in letting these people come over in such a panic stricken stampede is this," he added. The congested condition of Ellis island was emphasized by the six vessels in port, awaiting inspection of thousands of immigrants.

Milwaukee, Wis.—A pair of forceps about six inches long were overlooked by physicians and sewed up in her, after an operation, according to a suit for $20,000 damages, filed here by Mrs. Ida Zentner, against Dr. William F. Weggs and Mrs. Grace M. Levings, administratrix of the estate of Dr. A. H. Levings.

The two physicians were charged with carelessness in an operation performed June 7, 1917. The forceps were recovered a second operation, Oct. 8, 1918, the petition asserted.

Dr. A. H. Levings was a former resident of Appleton and served as mayor of this city. He has been dead for many months.

ANCIENT VASE OZZES BLOOD FROM ITS PORES

Lexington, Ky.—All Louisville is excited over a crimson liquid, which many say is blood, exuding from the glaze and pores of an ancient looking opal like bowl, which on Thursday caused a pilgrimage of hundreds to the home of Charles O. Huesman.

"It's a miracle," a woman neighbor said in solemn tones.

Many took off their hats reverently as they gazed at the bowl. All went to the house sleepless. Many shook their heads on leaving. The owners of the vase were pined with all manner of questions.

"What kind of fluid had the vessel contained?" was one of the queries. It had been used as a flower vase and on special occasions as a spoon holder.

"This thing is worrying me. I wish some one who knows would decide what it is so we could sleep," Huesman declared.

Mrs. Huesman estimated that the vessel has exuded nearly a pint of liquid altogether, which she estimated is twice as much as could be contained in its pores if it had been stored up there all these years. Although the liquid coming from the vessel is red, the vessel itself is of an olive color.

ADMITS BURNING DANCE HALL; GETS FOUR YEARS

Stevens Point, Wis.—Dr. A. E. Chapin, Weyauwega veterinarian, was sentenced on Friday to four years in the state prison after pleading guilty to the charge of setting fire to new dancing pavilion near Weyauwega, owned by Fred Hertz. Chapin gave as his reason for the act that he was on unfriendly terms with Hertz.
